

Game Rules

Choose who goes first.

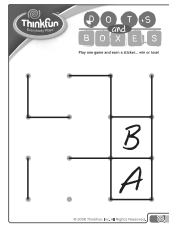

Players take turns drawing pencil between two dots of any row or column.

When a player completes a box, he or she writes their initials in the box and gets to draw another line. If this line completes another box, player must draw another line.

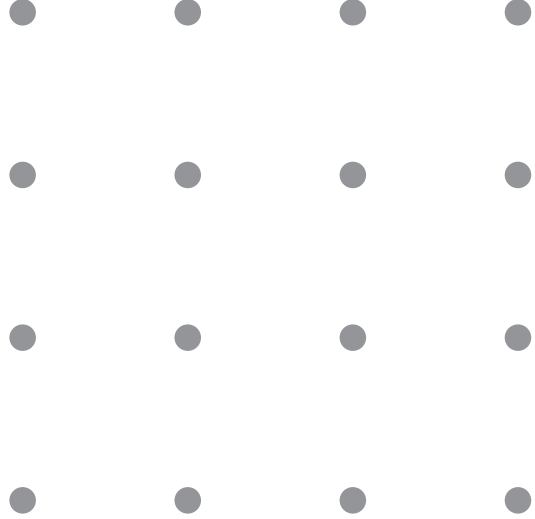

After all the boxes are filled, count the initials.

Player with their initials in the most boxes is the LOSER.

Use scrap paper to play.

Sample game in progress.

Game Rules

Choose who goes first.

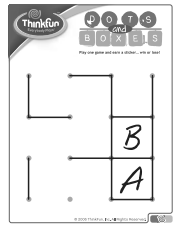

Players take turns drawing pencil between two dots of any row or column.

When a player completes a box, he or she writes their initials in the box and gets to draw another line. If this line completes another box, player must draw another line.

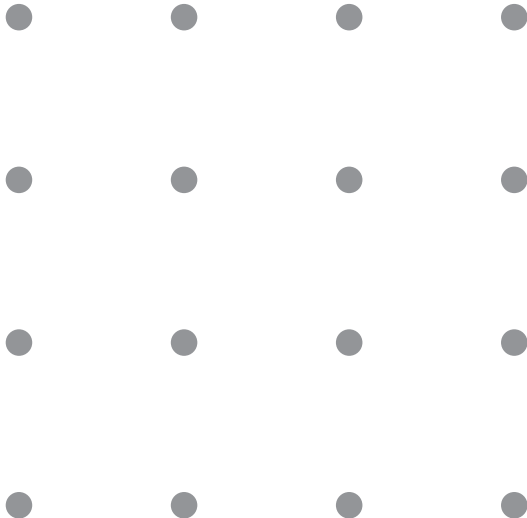

After all the boxes are filled, count the initials.

Player with their initials in the most boxes is the LOSER.

Use scrap paper to play.

Sample game in progress.

Game Rules

Choose who goes first.

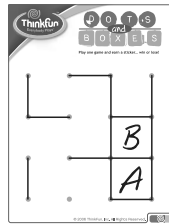

Players take turns drawing pencil between two dots of any row or column.

When a player completes a box, he or she writes their initials in the box and gets to draw another line. If this line completes another box, player must draw another line.

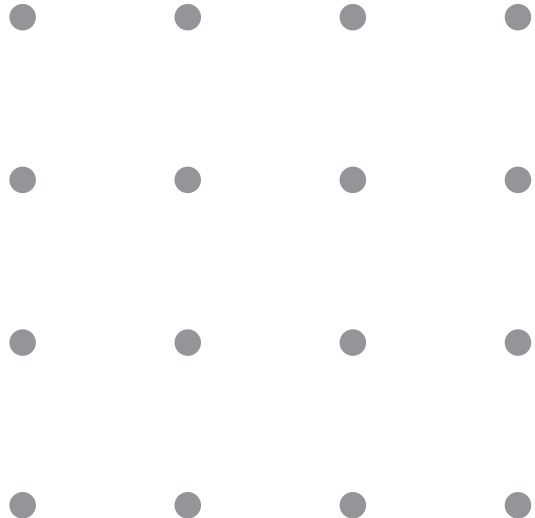

After all the boxes are filled, count the initials.

Player with their initials in the most boxes is the LOSER.

Use scrap paper to play.

Sample game in progress.

Game Rules

Choose who goes first.

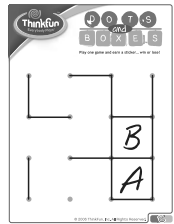

Players take turns drawing pencil between two dots of any row or column.

When a player completes a box, he or she writes their initials in the box and gets to draw another line. If this line completes another box, player must draw another line.

After all the boxes are filled, count the initials.

Player with their initials in the most boxes is the LOSER.

Use scrap paper to play.

Sample game in progress.